Justice Woodlock,

Thank you for taking your time to read my letter. I know you're a very busy man, so I'll only take a minute of your time.

If you will recall, I was sentenced by your honor to 57 months imprisonment (for bankrobbery) in August of 2002. I was also ordered to pay $900 restitution and $200 Court costs. At this time I've made approx. $700 in payments. There is a payment program (FRP) designed and carried out by the B.O.P., and that's how I've made my payments up until this time.

Your honor, I'm a 23 year-old recovering addict. I have no financial backing of my own. All the money I get for my phone calls, clothes, sneakers and hygiene products comes from my family. I don't think it is fair to them, to have them paying my restitution as well. I alone stole from those banks, and I alone should repay them for their loss.

The amount the Bop is ordering me to pay has increased from $7 a month, to $50 a month, to $75 a month, now they are asking for $100 a month. This added cost is beginning to put a strain on my family - and a resentment that they're paying for my mistakes. I agree with them totally.

I am at this time going to college via onsite Marist College courses to get my Associates Degree in Business Management. I'm half-way through my second semester with a 3.6 GPA. I'm also one test away from receiving my Personal Trainer's license. (3.9 GPA) I attend weekly AA & AA step meetings and attend psychological, pharmacological treatment(s). I also teach a yoga class for senior citizens with range-of-motion problems.

In spite of all the work I'm doing to try and make a life for myself, I've been told that if I do not pay the amount requested by my unit team - I will be marked as a "refusal" and not be allowed to go to school, or be eligible for a half-way house.

I'm asking you to entertain this letter as a formal motion to put off the remaining balance of my restitution payment until I am released and have gainfull employment. Or if your honor sees fit I can send a more reasonable amount to the court monthly from my commissary account. $ 25 per month would be feasible.

I thank you for your time and please cc: your reply to both
